Keep April 9 in mind. At that time at the GHS, the MacDowell Musicale will sponsor a musical entertainment, with soldiers starring. Admission will be free; but each one will be invited to buy a 50 cent war stamp.

Willie Ed Bingham of Grenada, who is now at Mathiston school, will enter military service Monday. Good luck, old boy.

This is another non-controversial issue. Nobody can get mad, puffed up or irked.

Aint they sweet.

Up until 10 a. m. Thursday, March 25, 1943, Grenada has not experienced TWO fires at the SAME. Providence has been good to Grenada.

Some folks call the blinkity blink traffic lights the bdanity blankity traffic lights, as their precious four gallons are idled away awaiting a change in color.

According to reliable information, received by the grapevine telegraph, several new ladies of the evening have moved into the community. Some look a little hide-bound and spaviny.

We will buy a 36 or 38 exhaust fan equipped with a single phase motor. It is as hot as seven hells in this building in the summertime.

Army payday is on next Tuesday. Grenada will have the biggest business on the following Saturday and Sunday that it ever experienced. If a soldier cannott buy anything else, he will buy a Bible or a garden rake or a mouse trap to send home. We suggest that our retail outlets stock up on printed stationery that we sell. Do not wait until the time is at hand, for we cannot print it all at once.

MEN OF THE 87 Infantry Division

It is, commonly accepted as a fact by the uninitiated that when a man puts on the uniform of the Armed Forces he is from then on a cog in the wheel—a part of a giant machine.

LT. COL. L. B. CASTORR

This is true, but, nevertheless, the soldier still has individual rights and problems. It is with the soldier as an individual that the G-1 deals.

The Personnel Officer, or AC of S, G-1 as he is listed on the General Staff of the Division, is Lt. Col. L. B. Castorr, who was born in Detroit, Michigan, on November 18, 1912.

Six years of Basic ROTC and graduate CMTC training at Ft. Custer, Michigan, and the receiving of his commission as 2nd Lieutenant in December, 1933 prepared Col. Castorr for the responsibility and capacity which his present rank and office requires. Prior to being called into active service, Col. Castorr was connected with W. K. Kellogg Company of Battle Creek, Michigan.

In 1940 he entered the Infantry School Fort Benning, Georgia, and upon completion of his course was transferred to Camp Wolters, Texas, Infantry Replacement Training Center. There he served as company officer, supply officer and battalion adjutant. On March 29, 1941, he was promoted to a Captain an later transferred to Ft. McClellon, Alamaba, where he served as a Regimental adjutant.

May 19, 1942, Colonel Castorr, was promoted to a Major and in September of that same year attended the Command and General Staff School at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas. Upon completion of the course Col. Castorr was assigned to the 87th Infantry Divison at Camp McCain, Miss., and served as assistant executive officer of the 345th Infantry until he was transferred to Division Headquarters on the General Staff as assistant Chief of Staff, G-1.

Lt. Col. Castorr's promotion on March 9, 1943 to the rank he now holds is the immediate climax in the successful career of a good soldier. From a Lieutenant to a Lieutenant Colonel in less than two years is a record which any member of the Armed Forces can be justly proud of.

While in civilian life Col. Castorr was chairman of CMTC activities to the civilian aide to the Secretary of War for all camps in the Sixth Service Command. He was also president of the Reserve Officers Association until called to duty from Michigan.

Quota Can Easily Be Raised—If We Will

Fellow Citizens of Grenada County:

We have been given a quota of $12,200.00 to raise for the Red Cross War Fund. This may seem a large amount, yet if we really give unselfishly, we can reach our goal easily. There are many who are making more money than they ever did and this on account of the Army Camp and Air Base. The very boys who are spending their money with you now are going to receive help in some sort of way from the Red Cross. Yes, the money you give for this cause is going to benefit the men who are now making you prosperous. There are a great many who intend to give, but who keep putting it off. Those who need the Red Cross need it NOW. Our wounded and sick soldiers can't wait.

The drive is drawing to a close. If you intend making a donation to this fine cause, please do so now. You'll never find a better time.

S. H. HORTON, Chairman,
Red Cross War Fund Drive.

William B. Kenwright Died Here Tuesday

Mr. William Bailey Kenwright died in the home of his son, Charles Kenwright, on Poplar Street in this city Tuesday, March 23, 1943 after a long illness.

Mr. Kenwright was a lifelong resident of Scoby, Mississippi, and only when advancing age forced his retirement from the active scenes did he leave to make his home here. He was born March 29, 1868 and was therefore 77 years of age. He was known as a man who was strictly honest, one kindly to his neighbors and one who attended strictly to his own affairs, letting the affairs of others alone. His wife was the former Miss Tenza Tilghman.

Funeral services were held at the Scoby cemetery Wednesday. Friends gathered to pay their last respect to the deceased.

Surviving him are his widow; one daughter, Mrs. E. H. Tribble, of Scoby; and five sons, Charles, of Grenada, Jack, of Greenwood, Marvin, of Blytheville, Ark., Leslie, of Blytheville, and William, of Fort Benning, Ga.

To the ones who survive, we extend our sympathy.

87th—"Baby Division" Approaching Manhood

The 87th Infantry Division, commanded by Maj. Gen. P. W. Clarkson, the "Baby Division," of the United States Army, is approaching manhood.

Scores of teen-age draftees, from the four corners of the United States, many of them in camp only a short time, are learning the rudiments of soldiering and are being put through their paces by alert young officers.

The first phase of training was devoted primarily to drilling, but the young draftees of the 87th learned a lot more than that during the past period. The manual of arms with the rifles was among things taught. He learned how food and sanitary conditions are maintained while his unit is in the field. He learned the first rough rudiments of the open field warfare. He was shown films instructing him how to distinguish, defend, and attack against the enemy's armored vehicles.

He was shown the first essential features of air warfare. He learned the proper procedure during a gas attack. He learned the proper method to aim and sight the Army rifle. He saw demonstrations in the area of camouflage. And if he was in some unit's he became well acquainted with the obstacle course. All these things were shown in first phase of training.

In weeks to come and the training is intensified, the youth of the 87th, an asset possessed by no other Division, will stand him well as the "Acorns begin to grow."

ed in and around Grenada quite a number of years. I have raised a large family all to be grown and married. I am a poor man, 58 years old. Don't think I will have to go to the army. I was elected Constable of your Beat four years ago. Have done my best to do my duty. I have served the papers as your J. P. directed me to do. I haven't tried to be smart, haven't tried to take too much authority, worked with the sheriff as he asked me to. I try to treat everybody alike. I think I am qualified to tend to the supervisor's office if lucky enough to get it. I would like to serve you good people four years as I need it for the money. I have a little home just outside of your town. Would certainly appreciate your vote and influence.

Sincerely yours,
B. C. SMITH.

William H. McCormick Died Early Sunday Morning

Mr. William Henry McCormick, known affectionately to almost everyone of "Uncle Billie," ended his long and useful career Sunday morning, March 21, 1943, in his home in the Firkman community.

He was born, lived his entire life and died in what is now Grenada County, though Enon, the place of his birth, was at that time a part of Yalobusha County. He was born on July 17, 1852 and was the son of pioneer settlers of the community, Mr. Daniel Webster McCormick and Mrs. Sarah Amanda Jones McCormick. In early youth he attended a private school owned and taught by his father. In early manhood he united with the Baptist church of which he remained a faithful member throughout his life. On January 16, 1873, he and Miss Sarah Clementine Weir were united in marriage. Just recently they celebrated an event that rarely comes to any couple—the 60th anniversary. During the stirring days of Reconstruction he was a member of the Democratic Nominating Committee.

He enjoyed remarkably good health and only during the last few years has he slowed down, and only during the past few months has he missed regular trips to Grenada to mix and mingle with his friends. In that nearly all of his children lived within rifle shot of him and his wife, he was like the old chief of the clan.

Pallbearers were six grandsons: Captain Max McCormick, William McCormick, Cpt. J. W. McCormich, Jr. R. F. McCormich, J. E. McCormick and Ed G. Mcormick, Jr.

Surviving him are his widow; six sons, Ed G., P. H., J. H., J. W., A. B., and M. Q. McCormick; two daughters, Mrs. Henry Trussell, of Itta Bena and Mrs. Tom Harris, of Senatobia; 24 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Thus ends the career of an honored and useful man who, with the constant cooperation of his life's companion, reared one of the finest families in this coutry.

Kosher Passover Foods For Jewish Servicemen

Every attempt will be made for observant Jewish members of the armed forces to have Kosher foods for Passover according to a statement of the National Jewish Welfare Board. The JWB has outlined the following method for Jewish servicemen to follow immediately, so that the distribution of these foods can be put into operation wherever possible.

Mr. John Karpeles, the JWB Field Director in Grenada, should be contacted by the servicemen and told that he wishes to make arrangements for Kosher Passover food. The national office will endeavor to fill all requests.

This is one of the many services being performed daily by the National Jewish Welfare Board for the Jewish members of our armed forces both at home and overseas.

(The following is from the Commercial Appeal.)

Today, in distant lands, in dust and mud, in heat and cold, our boys are carrying the flag, not as an emblem of conquest, but, as the proud and sacred symbol of the Freedom . . . Equality . . . Justice . . . and Humanity for which our country stands.

Let us renew the courage of our soldiers . . . let us revive the faith of our allies with such generosity that no doubts will assail them that the folks back home are "Standing by" . . . Investing 10 percent of our Earnings is not enough. Buy more United States War Bonds—NOW.

MRS. BONELLI OF VICKSBURG BUILDS ASTRONOMICAL TELESCOPE

Mrs. Albert Bonelli, of Vicksburg, the former Miss Corinne Turnage, of Grenada is receiving special attention for her achievement in building her own astronomical telescope. The following is from the Vicksburg Evening Post, and will be read with interest by her friends everywhere:

Versed in astronomy, and interested in all kindred subjects, Mrs. Albert Bonelli recently did the unusual thing of building her own sun-dial on the lawn, and composing her own motto for its face. The lady had already done the rather difficult task of erecting her own astronomical telescope for amateur sky study. Hence, the learning she had acquired in the exact movements of astronomical bodies, the latitudes, light, dark and shadow at certain times of day, stood her in good stead toward the exact "orientation" of her dial to let it cast its shadow correctly on the exact hour each day regardless of the slant of the sun with the changing seasons. It was no easy task. If you think it might have been, try it. Mrs. Bonelli used a stone pedestal that was once in the classic old Porterfield yard on Oak street. The other arts of the dial she contrived herself.

THE HOME FRONT

Only 57,000 new commercial vehicles remain in the nation's "reserve pool"—Before the war we were making 700,000 a year.

"A" book coupon No. 4 for gasoline expires next Sunday. The same goes for coffee stamp No. 25.

Folks who lose their ration books can apply for replacements at the local ration board, but if the board finds that it was lost or stolen through negligence it may hold up the issuance of a new one for 60 days.

OPA NO GESTAPO

Entering homes in search of violators of OPA regulations won't be countenanced except where inspectors go through the legal procedure of obtaining a search warrant.

Owners of roadside tourist camps must now offer their cabins at monthly rates. OPA says some auto court landlords have been charging daily rates to tenats who were forced to live in camps because of crowded housing conditions in booming war towns.

NO NEW BUILDING

Construction material shortages and lack of labor caused WPB to ban unauthorized new building months ago. Some new construction is still going on, however, and wildcat builders now are facing trouble. No one should start building without seeing the WPB first. $18,000,000 worth of construction was nipped in the bud by WPB last week.

The report that OPA would forbid hotels to hold luncheons for civic clubs has been denied by OPA.

PAPER SAVINGS

The Office of War Information has eliminated more than 42,000,000 publications and unnecessary press releases of the Federal Government.

Pea, bean and lentil seeds for planting are exempt from the food rationing program.

Washlines are long at Army camps here and overseas this year, so housewives and commercial laundries will get more washing machines.

LESS FISH

It is now thought likely there will be a shortage of seafoods this year. Many who have followed the sea as fishers of food are now in the Navy as fishers of Nazis, and there are military restructions on places where fishing is permitted these days.

One of the best ways to save gas and rubber is through car sharing. Giving someone a lift is more than neighborly courtesy now, it's a wartime service.

THE HOME FRONT

The greatest money-raising campaign in the world's history will be launched April 12 when the Treasury Deaprtment opens the Second War Loan drive to raise $13,000,000,000 in three weeks.

The average daily rate of war expenditures reached a new high in February—six billion dollars, more than twice those of February a year ago.

PASS THE TURKEY

There may be less meat on the Home Front, but turkeys will be plentiful . . . 37,000,000, by far the largest crop of gobblers ever grown. Rationing of meats starts March 29.

And WPB has removed restrictions on manufacture of lids and rubber jar rings, so that housewives may increase their home canning activities this year.

EXTRA FOOD RATIONS

Folks who live far from the store are now authorized to apply for extra canned goods—fishermen, forest rangers, men at logging camps, missionaries and the like.

And farmers who hire extra hands for planting and harvesting along with other seasonal employers, can apply to the ration board for temparary increases in their rationed foods.

LESS GAS, MORE PLEASURE

The prohibition against "pleasure driving" in the East has been eased, but it's like giving a kid a nickel to buy "anything he wants"—the gas ration is reduced to a mere dribble.

Stove pipe and elbows will undoubtedly be scarce next fall, so folks who are taking their stoves out for the summer should save them.

Extensive exeriments are under way in Tennessee to produce alcohol from wood, a process developed in Germany. Valuable information about the method has been obtained from German refugees.

LAST CALL FOR STUDENTS

Exams will be given for Army specialized training and the Navy college training programs at high schools throughout the nation, April 2. These will be the last for months to come.

When ODT frose all busses last week, it was looking out for the schools, which use two-thirds of all buses in service. So it's likely that the same old bus will come down the road again next Fall to pick up the children.

Uncle Sam Wants GARDENS!

• Uncle Sam insists that we all have Victory gardens this year—big ones and small ones, in town and country.

Plan your garden now, or join in the plans of your neighbors. Grow your own vegetables because the chances are you won't be able to buy them at the corner grocery. Gardens mean fresh food all summer and a food reserve stored away for winter. Gardens mean Health—lowered food costs—and practical PATRIOTISM!

Ask us about International Harvester's 84-page booklet, "Have a Victory Garden." It's a dandy—packed with helpful information on soil, seedbeds, fertilizers, hotbeds, cold frames, planting, cultivating, weed control, insect and disease control, harvesting, winter storage, etc.

A Flower To Louie Friedman.

The debt on the handsome Masonic Temple has been reduced from about $50,000.00 6 percent bonds to $16,000.00 3 percent bonds.

While most of the members of the Masonic fraternity here in Grenada were willing to give the payment of the bonds up as a bad job, Louie Friedman, with bulldog tenacity, would never consent. He has often stated to me that, before the death of my father, the late William H. Whitaker (a "big" Mason), he promised Dr. Whitaker that he would hold on to the property if humanly possible.

Louie has worked as hard, if not harder, in carrying out this promise than he has worked in his own successful mercantile business. At one time, the whole body of Masons, assembled to decide the matter, voted by a huge majority to sell the property, and appointed Louie and Mr. Ray on the committee on negotiating the deal. Louie "sat down" on the proposition.

By hook or crook, by the appointment of a bondholders protective committee and by other honorable means, freclosure was averted. Louie led this endeavor.

And recently, when the proposition of refunding the 6 percent obligations to 3 percent obligations, Louie undertook to sell the 3 percent paper, and SOLD IT.

Modest, unassuming Louie, conscious of the promise he made, has well fulfilled that promise, and has placed the Masonic building on a firm footing, with a small indebtedness which can easily be paid.

All Masons should feel grateful to Louie; and all people should admire a man with the tenacity of purpose to steer always toward the main objective.

Pay As We Go

Personally I would rather pay ten percent, if that percent is necessary, sales tax on EVERYTHING I buy, in order to finance the prosecution of the war and, while times are good, reduce the national debt, than to follow the method now being followed—that of a hodge podge method of mixed-up withholding tax and income tax, the combined receipts from which do not keep pace with expenditures, but merely increase the bonded debt—which MUST be paid when times are bad.

The best time to pay a debt, as Chuck Trotter and Benjamin Franklin said, is when you have the money. What better time, then, is now when everybody has some money?

Traffic Lights

I have recently learned on good authority that Corinth, a town considerably larger than Grenada, has discontinued ALL traffic lights; that Houston has discontinued ALL traffic lights and that Tupelo has discontinued the use of traffic lights except on the main "drag." As stated previously, Gulfport with a normal population over twice that of Grenada has not used traffic lights in several years, if ever.

Use of traffic lights in Grenada entail a number of unnecessary wastes: waste of time, waste of irreplacable rubber, waste of gasoline from the 4-gallon book; waste of precious power and waste of money for this power by the city which already taxes me—if not other people—twice as much for the SAME property as the county.

More Attention To Air Base

At the present time, when the personnel at the Army Air Base is small, the people of Grenada are inclined to overlook the potentialities of this base. In the end it is likely to be a permanent asset to this community. It is most likely to be here when the termites shall have utterly destroyed Camp McCain, the "Termites Paradise," as I aptly named it many months ago.

Another Reconstruction Period Is Here

This is not a political advertisement. I am not a politician. I am not interested in politics as such. This is merely a statement of cold facts that should be the concern, in my opinion, of all of us who are interested in the continuance of the American way of life with particular reference to the Southern way and more particularly the Mississippi way.

I am firmly of the opinion that if this nation is wrecked, it will be wrecked from within, and not from without.

There is no need to go into a long-winded recital of what the New Deal has already done to the South, and what these people have in store for us in the future. Mrs. Roosevelt, et al, have spared no pains to make it plain what we can expect.

I believe it is high time for us of the South to assert ourselves. We face another reconstruction. There can no longer be a place for a neutral. We must take one side or the other in the affairs of our nation.

We have a man running for Governor of Mississippi who has, since 1933, realized what these New Dealers have in mind as their ultimate goal for this nation. That goal is Socialism—they will probably call it something else—but whatever its name, it will stink.

This man has not hesitated to publicly state his position time and time again, even when others in public life were riding high on the coattails of the New Deal.

This man is Mike Conner.

He made—and I believe even those who personally do not care for him will admit—one of the best Governors Mississippi has ever had. I believe Mississippi will need a Governor of his ability, character, integrity and fortitude even more in the years ahead than when he served before.

I realize that a great many people do not admire his personality. No one, however, has ever questioned his integrity, his honesty or his courage.

This is no time to consider personal feelings. All such must be subordinated to the welfare of the nation. The next Governor of Mississippi can, by reason of his high office, speak out with authority against present trends—he can lead Mississippi's fight against Federal encroachment and against Federal domination of our schools, overthrow of Southern traditions and ways of life.

I believe that Mike Conner's record speaks for itself. I believe that he is, by all odds, the one man to lead this fight.

—ELLETT LAWRENCE.

No Longer A "Solid South"

For many years it has been a stock phrase that, if the Democrats nominated a yellow dog for President, the eleven southern states would vote for the dog. That is no longer true. The conservative people of the South still feel that they are Democrats, but do not feel that Democracy and New Dealism are synonomous. Come another presidential election year, I predict the people of the South will form a new party.

In the supervisors race, for example, the candidate will not promise his sons or his wife anything, for he knows that he will get their votes anyway; the opponent will not promise that group anything for he knows, whatever happens, he will not receive that vote. And so it has been in national politics. The big shots in the Democratic party neither give nor promise anything to the South because they knew they have the South "in the bag" anyway, so why waste ammunition. The Republicans would neither give nor promise to give the Sotuh anything, for they knew that, under no circumstances, would they receive any support or comfort from the South.

The South is awakening not only to the fact that it has been an orphan when the grapes were being distributed, but also to the fact that, while Democratic, it is not New Dealish.

Speed the day.

Register That Service Man

The Lions Club of Grenada wishes to erect a large sign in the square on which will be painted the name of EVERY man from Grenada county who is in either of the armed forces.

Even if the draft board were permitted to give the names of the draftees—which it is not—the list would be decidedly incomplete, for at least as many men have volunteered as have been drafted.

The only means left to get a complete list is to appeal to the parents or next of kin of the men to send in the FULL names of those in the service to Mr. O. L. Kimbrough, who has been named as head of the committee. Do not say "Jim Smith," but "James L. Smith; not "John Jones", but "John H. Jones."

Lets try to make the list complete.

Camp McCain News

Already quite a few of the Second Louies, the Shavetails, the gold-barred backbones of the Army, are receiving orders to leave Camp McCain for new stations.

Some are going to Flying Fields, some to other Camps, and others are traveling under sealed orders.

In the drug store in town last night we met one Field Artillery Lieutenant that had just received orders . . . and he was celebrating with an orange juice.

The struggle between the Field Artillery and the Corps of Engineers for the title of "Brains of the Army" is still going on, as of always, we found out last night.

Another never ending struggle is the one for seats on the buses . . . the ones going in any direction. Memphis is becoming increasingly popular for week-ending Camp McCainites.

Capt. Trice spent the day there last week, you know. It wasn't exactly week-ending.

The Chestines, the two blondes working for the U. S. Engineers here at Camp, are thinking about leaving for Brazil when this job is finished. Their reddish-gold locks should be sensational down in the brunette country.

Bessie Ray has definitely decided to go to Alberta, Canada, to work. Her many friends and relatives persuaded her that they just couldn't do without her here in Mississippi.

Weddings are still popular around here, there are still some single girls left in Grenada, though. We hear that quite a few of the Sergeants are marrying local girls, too.

One girl we can't explain is Myrtle Kelly, still on the switchboard here at Camp. She received that diamond quite a while ago, and the Sergeant bought that other ring to match it at the same time. But she's still wearing just one ring.

The WAAC buildings are nearing completion rapidly, but still no WAAC's. There was a rumor floating late Saturday night that they had arrived, and quite a few of the boys bolted from the dance floor to welcome them . . . in vain.

This column is really short this week but we're going to end right here, for if we added anything else, it would be just padding.

AN EAVES DROPPER

The other night I was back in my little office shuffling my points and licking my sugar stamps and everything was so quiet you could almost hear a pin drop. Suddenly I thought I heard a noise up in the fruit stand so I tiptoed up behind the flour isle and listened and heard something that sounded like this. A big red York Apple was telling a nice big Golden Lemon how valuable it was and how folks liked to use it for apple sauce, baking, stewing, making pies, apple dumpling and eating. The lemon gave a horselaugh and says for pies I am unexcelled and for juice I can't be beat, but my trump card is up my sleeve.

You can take me and quarter me with the rind on and place me in a stew pan and cover me with water and bring me to a boil rind and all and drink the juice, but brother if there's a bad cold around you'd better get out of the way because there's something in my rind that scares a bad cold so it tries to run over whatever gets in its way. Of course I didn't pay much attention to their foolish squabbling but went back to my work but I kept thinking that sometimes its the simple things in life that have a big value. I've about decided that lots of little things that we do every day that pass almost unnoticed will be on further down the road to meet us again and they're liable to grow some before we overtake them. From now on I'm going to try to do nice little things for my customers and then I won't be afraid to go on down and meet anything that's on the road.

THROUGH A WOMAN'S EYE

By Mrs. W. W. Whitaker

EASTLAND APPRECIATES ARTICLE ON COTTONSEED

Mrs. W. W. Whitaker,
Grenada, Mississippi,
Dear Mrs. Whitaker:

I appreciated very much your article on cottonseed.

We need a great deal more education, even in the South, about the value of our cottonseed crop. The ignorance of other sections of the country is appalling. For instance, the Dean of the Law School of the University of Iowa was invited to make a nation-wide radio speech in the Town Forum on how to win the war. He said that the South was selfishly growing cotton and we should be reprimanded for our selfishness, that no cotton whatever should be planted for 1943, and the South should be forced to plant food crops. The Deputy of Manpower here in Washington, Fowler Harper, concurred in this view and said that the cotton crop for 1943 ought to be thrown into the Gulf of Mexico. At the very moment these men were sounding off, dairy cows were being sold for slaughter in Iowa because there was no cottonseed meal to feed them.

I am certainly glad that I have a fellow crusader in you. Let us mutually agree to keep up the fight.

With kind regards, I am

Sincerely yours,
James O. Eastland, U. S. S.

With the tremendous responsibility in the South of growing cotton and additional food stuff comes the realization that we must do a bigger and better job on the farm with a smaller force of plow boys, (who are now in the armed forces of our country). We must do a bigger job with an ever diminishing stock of farm machinery, to say nothing of the extra time spent keeping the machinery in repair, and added to these worries the restrictions on farm transportation and its resultant hinderance on production; all of these make a farmer's life anything but pleasant. I truly fail to see anything selfish about cotton farmers wanting to plant more cotton and I feel discouraged when an intelligent man goes off half-cocked on a subject he hasn't acquainted himself with.

We of the South are willing to plant additional cotton for seed and lint value. We are truly going to need it before the next 1944 crop is planted.

Having the heart of a farmer and observing as I have the effect the government agencies have on farmers, especially tenants, I believe that without government planning and aid, farmers would have been producing food stuff of which perhaps the major part would be in the hands of sepculators, but it would be available now in this emergency. Farmers, especially tenants have been flirting with the farm program to the effect that by the time they receive their benefit payment, the money is spent and they have nothing to show for it. This live issue is usvt as a political football by some politicians.

Farmers, like other people, become discouraged with the enormous agency that is being set up and employed to administer the program pertaining to agriculture which has developed too much red tape and unnecessary demands. Farmers will give to the future as they have in the past, the best they have, if reasonably dealt with.

Wonder how Ben Townes is getting along?

Celebrates First Complete Division Officers' Dance

From where we sit, it looks like they have the sly desert fox, General Rommel, trapped. If he escapes, he will suffer heavy losses.

The Way To Heaven

By Rev. J. E. Goforth

How to get to Heaven is the question that has burdened men's hearts, in every clime of life, and in all ages, since Adam sinned, every heathen religion has its Heaven of some kind, let it be creed or cruft or whatever it may be, men long for Heaven. Pilgims have come from all parts of the earth, fighting their way to Jerusalem to gain the assurance of peace and forgiveness hereafter, with the hope of gaiuing Heaven, men seek a way to Heaven in waters of Baptism, in confessional, or in the bread and wine of the Lord's Supper. They seek Heaven by lodge rights, by giving gifts to the poor, and by righteous deeds, every human heart longs to make sure of blessedness and peace and happiness hereafter. But none of these are the way to Heaven, we must remember the word of Jesus, when He had told His disciples that He was going away and whither I go ye cannot come, they were troubled in spirit and began to be sorrowful. Then He comforted their hearts with these words, John 14 c. Let not your hearts be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me, in my Father's House are many mansions, if it were not so, I would have told you, I go to prepare a place for you, and if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto myself, that where I am there ye may be also, and whither I go ye know, and the way ye know now I am so glad that doubting Thomas was present and asked this question John 14 c 5 We know not whither thou goeth and hov can we know the way. Jesus answered and said, I am the way, the truth and the life, no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. Jesus himself is the only way to Heaven. I feel sure there are some today, who like Thomas, have let doubt enter into their hearts because they have not kept the word. eJsus is not only the way, but the truth and life. We must believe in His word, we must seek to know His Holy will and keep His commandments that we may live on and on rejoicing in hope of eternal glory. Jesus repeatedly said that He was the way to salvation, the way to Heaven. He said in John 7-37, If any man thirst let him come unto me and drink, Matthew 11-28, come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest, true rest, true salvation, true forgiveness. It is not found by membership in a church, by baptism, or by righteous living, they are found in Christ alone. We should love Him more and more each day while we live upon the earth, and in all things, give thanks to God the Father, God has given salvation to men, God has given eternal life, God wants Heaven to be filled wtih the redeemed, but this gift of everlasting life is given through His son, this is the record that God hath given to us, eternal life and this life is in His son. He that has the son, hath life, and He that hath not the son hath not life. 1 John 5-11-12, today if you have Jesus, you have salvation. If you have Christ you have the way to Heaven. His shed blood on Calvary's Cross paid for man's sins when eJsus died, the veil of the temple was torn in two from the top to bottom, Matt. 27-51. Truly there isn't any other way given under Heaven or among men whereby men can be saved, saved through the attonement of His blood. Now this same Jesus who died to prepare sinners for Heaven, has gone to prepare Heaven for forgiven sinners. Jesus has opened the way to Heaven. Jesus has opened the gateway of life for straight is the way and narrow is the gate that leadeth unto life everlasting and few there be, that find it. But broad is the way and wide is the gate that leadeth to distruction and many there be that go in there at. Jesus said, hi mthat cometh to me I will in no wise cast out, John 6-37. Jesus said, behold I stand at the door and knock, if any man hears my voice and opens the door I will come in, Rev. 3-20. You see you only have to open the door and let Jesus in, and then thank God you are sure of Heaven.

May God bless and save the lost.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

New Ration Orders Assure Healthy Diet; Nazi's Kharkov Offensive Recalls Drive That Preceded Collapse in World War I; Congress Ponders Postwar Security Plan

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

The direction in which the Nazis launched their counteroffensive against the Russians in the Kharkov area is indicated by the above map. Successful in its early stages, the counteroffensive had driven the Russ back 100 miles and regained for the Nazis areas captured by the Russ winter drive.

WAR PROGRAM: Centralization Needed

Like doctors in a clinic, members of the senate's Truman investigating committee gave the progress of the war program a thorough examination and emerged with three basic reasons for "nearly all the failures and shortcomings" found.

First reason was "inadequate over-all planning within government agencies at the beginning of the various programs"; second was "conflicting authority over various phases of the war program"; and third, "hesitancy of the government to adopt unpopular or unpleasant policies long after the facts indicated such policies were necessary."

In recommending corrections, the committee called for clearly defined authority, centralized in a few officials, during the coming year. Incidentally, the committee warned that the year ahead would be the toughest and grimmest in U. S. history.

RATIONING: Healthy Diet Sure

Americans tightened their belts in anticipation of the slimmer portions of meat; canned fish, butter, cheese and edible fats the new rationing regulations effective March 29 would impose.

To those who for months had been following the Food Administration's request to ration themselves voluntarily, the new estimated ration of about two pounds weekly of meat per person "more or less" represented only a slight shift downward. Still unrationed as the orders went into effect were poultry, fresh fish and such rarely used meats as rabbit and other game. The new rationing orders had been accompanied by the heartening news that coffee would be more plentiful, with one pound every five instead of six weeks, and that point values on dry beans and peas had been lowered.

All things considered, the new regulations would reduce consumption of the foods they covered by from 12 to 13 per cent. That supplies assured a healthy diet was emphasized by Food Administrator Wickard. Estimates indicated that 1943 per capita civilian supplies of meat, cheese, fats and other commodities would be about equal to the average for 1935-39.

NORTH AFRICA: Axis Hopes Dimmer

Holed up in the Mareth line after having received a punishing beating Nazi Marshal Rommel has had to face the consequences of being ringed in by an Allied line of steel. That those consequences were to be serious and might even reach the disastrous proportions of a defeat rivaling the Axis rout at Stalingrad was the opinion of seasoned observers.

Faced by the increasing strength of General Montgomery's British 8th army and by the reinforced and battle-seasoned American forces of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, Rommel and his cohort, Col. Gen. Von Arnim, had their work cut out for them.

NAZI OFFENSIVE: Same Result as '18?

Military historians were drawing parallels between the latest German offensive whose initial operations had hurled the Russians back in the Kharkov area, and the historic Ludendorff-Hindenburg offensive in July, 1918, which preceded Germany's final collapse.

As in World War I, this new offensive was undertaken after weeks of costly defeat. A major victory now was urgently needed—the same as 25 years ago, if the military gains resulting from invasion were to be held.

Whether the final result this time would be as rapid as before, time alone would tell. But it was clear that the Nazis had thrown in superior forces and equipment in a gamble to prevent a complete loss of their conquests.

Further north the picture was different. The fall of Vyazma had clearly proved that Nazi pressure on the Kharkov front did not prevent the Russians from continuing their advances toward Smolensk. With Vyazma and Rzhev gone, the main bastions protecting Smolensk from the east were now in Russian hands.

FARM DEBTS: Repayment Rapid

How farmers are using their war-expanded income to set their financial house in order was indicated by a department of agriculture report showing that more than 100,000 farmer-borrowers from the 12 Federal Land Banks had repaid their loans in full in 1942.

A total of $303,000,000 was repaid by all farmers during the year and in addition they deposited $21,239,169 to be used in paying future installments on land bank and commissioner loans.

The demand for new farm mortgages was about 22 per cent less in the last six months of 1942 than in the corresponding period of 1941.

CRADLE TO GRAVE: Security Plan Proposed

A postwar economy in the United States in which "freedom from want" would be translated from a pious theory to an operating reality was envisioned in a revolutionary social security plan drawn up by the National Resources Planning board and laid before congress by President Roosevelt.

Stating that it should be the declared policy of this government "not only to promote and maintain a high level of national production and consumption," the board's report urged:

1—Guarantee of a job for every man released from the armed forces and war industry after the war's conclusion, with fair pay and working conditions; 2—Government underwriting of full employment for all employables.

Among other recommendations were plans for joint private-government partnerships in various post-war industries; creation of a national unemployment compensation fund; increased old age benefits; expanded public works programs.

Vassov. Lord Gowrie told the new envoy that "both our peoples are encouraged by the knowledge they are fighting for the preservation of their own way of life."

ANKARA: The elevation of Col. Gen. Rudolph Haarde to the post of commander in chief of German forces in Greece, Thrace and the Aegean area was reported here. He succeeds General Stuntz who was reported to have died in a railway accident in Bulgaria in which sabotage was suspected. Haarde was described as a close friend of prominent Bulgarian military leaders.

Soil Management Aid To Increasing Yields

Farmers Co-operating in Test Get Good Results

Larger yields of grain and better stands of hay are becoming increasingly important these days when the demand for cereal, meat and dairy products for war and civilian needs has reached such record peaks. Whether the output of these crops is large or small on a particular farm depends largely on the condition of the soil that produces them, according to Prof. C. J. Chapman of the college of agriculture, University of Wisconsin.

That such crops respond to soil management is evident from tests carried on in a number of Wisconsin counties in which fertilizers containing phosphorus and potash were applied to small grains and seedings of clover and alfalfa.

Farmers co-operating in the tests laid out demonstration plots on their land, leaving one area unfertilized. The results in the form of grain yields and hay crops that followed them in the rotation were checked and compared. The harvests showed that not only was the output of the small grains boosted, but the production of hay that followed in the rotation was greatly increased. The tests showed, too, that the soil improving treatments had a valuable carry-over benefit.

Typical of the results obtained were tests on farms in Portage county on silt loam and sandy loam soil types of varying fertility levels. On one silt loam plot where 300 pounds of an 0-20-20 fertilizer were applied per acre in 1941, the grain yield was 51.9 bushels compared with 31.1 bushels per acre on the unfertilized field. The 1942 hay crop on the fertilized field was 3,493 pounds, as against 1,186 pounds—or an increase of 4,307 pounds per acre.

A sandy loam plot treated likewise with 300 pounds per acre of an 0-20-20 yielded 23.2 bushels, compared with 19.2 on the untreated plot.

Allen G. Hunsaker of Afton, Wyo., whose four sons are now in the armed forces, installed a milking machine to help out. He is now carrying on with the aid of his wife and 12-year-old daughter. He now milks 20 high grade Holsteins which produce 15,000 pounds of milk per month, in comparison with the 16 cows he milked last year which averaged 10,000 pounds per month.

Eliminate Hazards!

Unless soldiers on the farm front are careful, an army of nearly 4,000 farm workers will be killed this year by mechanized equipment and livestock.

"That's why we say that heroism isn't confined to the front battle lines in this war," farm families were told by E. W. Lehmann, head of the agricultural engineering department, University of Illinois college of agriculture.

The shortage of labor, inexperienced machine operators and use of older machinery will aggravate the situation for the duration.

In Illinois alone, nearly 300 farmers lost their lives in producing and delivering food to market in 1941. Thousands were crippled for life; more thousands were crippled temporarily.

Accidents during wartime are not merely family and community tragedies. Many times they are the result of criminal negligence. Accidents that kill and injure American food-for-freedom producers aid the enemies.

Agricultural Notes

Sudden changes of temperature in dairy barns or in poultry houses reduce production of eggs and milk. Cows and hens do not work overtime to replace shortages from the day before.

THE APPEARANCES AFTER THE RESURRECTION

LESSON TEXT—John 20:19-31.
GOLDEN TEXT—I am alive for evermore.—Revelation 1:18.

The most important day in all history was the first day of the week following the crucifixion of Christ. Then He appeared to His disciples as their risen Lord. All the hope of all mankind for all eternity depended on His victory over death.

By eventide news had come to the disciples of His resurrection, and half in hope and half in uncertainty they had gathered to talk over these matters. Fearful of the Jews, they met behind closed doors. All at once He was there—the Lord Himself. What a wonderful change came over them as He made Himself known to them. They went

I. From Fear to Gladness (vv. 19, 20).

Their eyes had been upon their enemies and they were afraid. Now they "were glad, when they saw the Lord." We need to learn that lesson. If we look within we are ashamed and discouraged. If we look around us we are confused and fearful. If we look to Christ we are glad and strong.

Notice that their joy was not based only on an emotional impulse. They saw Christ in His resurrection body—the very One who had died. The evidence was there before them. Now they could understand the things He had said to them. The whole realm of spiritual truth was now in focus again, and they were glad. So are we when we really see Christ.

II. From Weakness to Strength (vv. 21-23).

The disciples who were called to be witnesses for Christ had lost their testimony when He died on the cross. Unbelief and discouragement had so weakened them that they were in hiding instead of being out proclaiming His truth.

Now the risen and victorious One sent them forth with the Father's blessing. They were empowered by the Holy Spirit, and given great authority (v. 23). Note that it was given not to one man or to the leaders, but to all the disciples. It was "a declarative right, and it belongs to every true disciple. Those who have received the gift of the Holy Spirit are in a position to declare to men that their sincere repentance brings forgiveness" (Douglass). The opposite is also true.

III. From Doubt to Faith (vv. 24-28).

Thomas, who had doubts and who cultivated them by his stubborn attitude (v. 25), did himself and his brethren a serious disservice by being absent from the meeting on the evening of the first Easter Day. When he did appear he had only doubts to contribute. Let those who make a custom of absenting themselves from the place and hour of service beware lest they do likewise.

His doubts were honest ones—and God always meets such questions, honestly and intelligently. When the evidence was before him, the heart of Thomas leaped the chasm from doubt to faith in one cry of complete devotion (v. 28).

It is significant that down through the ages many doubters have been won to Christ by the proof of the resurrection of Christ, which is by the testimony of historical scholars "the best authenticated fact in all history." The risen Christ stands before men today and says, "Be not faithless but believing." May many respond with Thomas, "My Lord and my God."

IV. From Death to Life (vv. 29-31).

Christ arose from the dead not just to show that He had power to do so, but, as Paul puts it, "for our justification" (Rom. 4:25). The reality and dependability of the entire plan of salvation hinged on the return of Christ from the dead. Had the grave held Him, His claims of deity and of the ability to forgive sin would have been entirely discredited. Because He lives we shall live.

The experience of regeneration is therefore likened in Scripture to a passing from death to life (John 5:24). Thomas saw the Lord, and believing, passed from doubt to faith. We cannot see Him now, but we have the blessed privilege of believing and thus receiving life (vv. 29, 31).

This was the message which the now radiant and empowered disciples went out to preach. The book of Acts tells us how effectively they did it, and shows how much of their preaching centered on the fact of the resurrection.

The command and the commission was not to them alone, but also to all of us who believe in Christ. May God take out of us the fear of men, overcome our weakness, and send us out with renewed faith to make this life-giving message known to our fellow men.

'FLYING MINUTE MEN'

(The brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, is awarded this week to the Civil Air Patrol.)

This brass ring goes not to one man but to 68,000 men and women. They are members of the Civil Air patrol who have been fighting the war in little single-motor planes flying within the boundaries of the United States, and who carry the torch for the future of civil aviation in this country.

How long they will be allowed to carry that torch is the important question. At present they are orphans of the storm—carrying military responsibilities without military standing. They fight submarines, but they had to fight for weapons first. The army and WPB are slowly throttling them by refusing new equipment or repair parts. Thus in order to keep their gradually deteriorating machines going, the Civil Air patrol is almost certain to be swallowed by the army.

The army has been wanting to take over because civilian fliers in wartime are considered a nuisance by the military—with justification in some cases.

Youths and Fathers.

But the owners of 35,000 private planes thought they had something to offer. The younger ones went into military service. Others, many being married men with families, organized the Civil Air patrol, which for more than a year has been flying the coastal waters and maintaining a courier service throughout the United States.

These are the "Flying Minute Men." At first their submarine patrol was merely a spotting job. If they spotted a submarine, they were supposed to radio a shore base and then hover around waiting for a bomber to come to the scene of action. But they had so many heartrending experiences, that they clamored for bombs of their own. They would dart low over the water, discover a submarine location, radio to a shore base, hold the contact, hover and pursue—and then sometimes lose the prey because the army never came along.

For months they called in vain for bombing equipment. War department insisted that no civilians are allowed to carry weapons, and thus the Civil Air patrol should not be armed. The army would not even release life rafts, and as a result several CAP pilots have lost their lives on submarine patrol.

Finally the restriction was waived, and today these little single-engine planes carry small bomb racks, bombs, and bomb sights.

But they have not been allowed to reveal the success of their submarine patrol. War department calls it "military information," and insists that CAP shall say no more than that they have "attacked" submarines—without indicating the result.

Subs Sunk.

But we can reveal that submarines spotted by CAP observers have actually been sunk. The authority for this statement is Maj. Gen. Follett Bradley of the army air corps, who also emphasizes that these "Flying Minute Men" have provided their own planes, tools, radios, and other equipment.

A year ago German submarines were sinking merchant ships within sight of the Atlantic coast. This brazen activity ceased after establishment of the Civil Air patrol. The submarines were driven into deep waters, for the small planes, flying low and flying slowly, were able to do a better job of spotting than big patrol bombers which whizzed past the scene too rapidly for close observation.

WHY THE JAPS KNOW

Here is an excerpt from the interior department's annual 1941 report, which indicates why the Japs know so much about the Aleutian Islands:

"The floating plant Kosei Maru, with auxiliary craft consisting of 9 trawlers, was engaged from May to August, 1940, in taking halibut and cod in Bering Sea about 100 miles northeast of the Pribilof Islands, with one additional trawler during the last week or two of the season. The vessel was reported to have left for Japan toward the end of August.

"This is the eleventh consecutive year that Japanese floating plants have operated in these waters, the number of vessels having varied from one to four, with the usual complement of tenders."

Note: Under international law it is impossible to prevent foreign fishermen from fishing in foreign waters.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

War Transport Czar Joe Eastman says he gets a bushel of letters and postcards every week suggesting that he bar Mrs. Roosevelt from traveling . . . Old Washington observers who have seen previous Presidents suffer from getting out of touch with the nation, wish FDR had two Mrs. Roosevelts to keep him posted about U. S. sentiment. Any President who loses contact with the people is finished, and every President, especially in wartime, has to keep close to his desk.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Indians of the Amazon River region made the first rubber overshoes, which were imported into the U. S. in 1820.

Mistakes of many kinds can cut into the rubber conservation program, as is pointed out by the Rubber Manufacturers Association. Each rubber boot was used originally in the manufacture of passed mask canvas.

Before vulcanization was discovered in 1839 rubber goods hardened like rock in winter and melted in summer. Early rubber goods manufacturers suffered severe financial losses because of the unreliability of their products. That was many years ago.

A check of the first 500 vehicles recently declared that 80% were satisfied, even in the event of from 10 to 15 years. This is a heavy waste of rubber because it has been found that 20 per cent of the rubber in the tires of only 24 per cent of the mileage built into a tire.

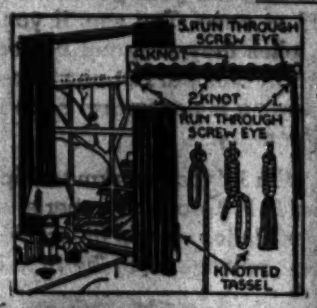
Fountain of Mercury

The Mercury fountain, exhibited at the Paris Exposition in 1937, spouted mercury, the liquid metal, instead of water. Incidentally, this display had to be heavily guarded because the 34 gallons of mercury required to operate it cost $17,750.

Here's Easy, Quick Way to Make Draw Curtains With Your Fixtures



IT IS easy to make draw curtains with the fixtures you have, plus a pair of large screw-eyes, some wood or brass rings, and about five yards of cord.

The screw-eyes are placed just under the hooks for the curtain rods; then run the cord through the screw-eye at the right; then through the rings, knotting it to the left ring at center; then through the rings and the screw-eye at the left; and back through the rings, knotting it to the right ring at center.

Now pass the cord through the rings and the right screw-eye and then make the tassels. Sew safety pins to back of curtains so they may be fastened to the rings.
